

ST. CAPITAL PRIZE $75,000. Tickets only $5. Shares in Proportion.

LAST!

LOUISIANA STATE LOTTERY COMPANY

We do hereby certify that we have arranged for all the Monthly and Semi-Annual Drawings of the Louisiana State Lottery Company, and in person manage and conduct the Drawings themselves, and that the same are conducted with honesty, fairness, and in good faith toward all parties, and we authorize the Company to use this certificate, with facsimiles of our signatures attached, in its advertisements.

John J. Morgan
John J. Morgan
Commissioners.

Incorporated in 1880 for twenty-five years by the Legislature of Louisiana for the purpose of raising a fund for the purpose of which a reserve fund of over $50,000 has since been added.

By an overwhelming popular vote the franchise was made a part of the present State Constitution adopted December 24, 1879.

The only lottery ever voted on and sustained by the people of any State. It never failed or postponed.

15 Grand Single Number Drawings each a new month. A splendid opportunity to win a fortune. First Grand Drawing, Class A, in the month of June, 1885.

CRAZIE, THURSDAY, Jan. 13th, 1885—17th Monthly Drawing.

Capital Prize $75,000!

100,000 tickets at $5.00 each. Fractions, in fifties, in proportion.

LIST OF PRIZES.
1 CAPITAL PRIZE.	$75,000
1 do.	10,000
1 do.	5,000
3 PRIZES OF $2,000.	6,000
10 do.	1,000
20 do.	500
100 do.	200
200 do.	100
500 do.	50
1,000 do.	25
APPROXIMATION PRIZES.
8 Approximation Prizes of $750.	$5,625
1 do.	250
1 do.	125

1,007 Prizes, amounting to $250,500.

Application for tickets should be made only to the office of the company in New Orleans.

For further information write clearly, giving full address, POSTAL NOTES, Express Money Orders, or New York & Chicago ordinary letter. Currency by express (all sums at $5.00 and upwards at our expense).

M. A. DAUPHIN,
407 Seventh Street, Washington, D. C.
Make P. O. Money orders payable and address registered letters to our office.

NEW ORLEANS NATIONAL BANK,
New Orleans, La.

"Christmas comes but once a year,
When it comes it brings good cheer."

Henry Orr's

East Second Street.

Is this year Holiday Headquarters. Large stock. Low prices. A splendid list of goods suitable for the little kids.

Children's Chairs, a great variety,
Wagons, Velocipedes,
Bicycles, Toy Bureaus,
Toy Bedsteads, Toy Cradles,
Toy Desks, Toy Washstands.

Hobby Horses (numerous styles) and many other articles maintained to invite the little ones at home. Also a full line of

CAMP CHAIRS

Artistic Hat Racks, Rattan Chairs, Platform Rockers, Patent Carpet Sweepers, (best in the world), and all kinds of Fancy Chairs, Parlor Bed room and Dining-room Sets, at all prices. Call and look at the stock before buying elsewhere.

HENRY ORR.
O'Christmas! merry Christmas!
It is really come again,
With its merry songs and glees,
Whispering to the heart,
Whispering to the heart.

Holiday Presents!

We invite the attention of all desiring to purchase desirable presents for the holidays to our large and well-selected stock of articles suited to the occasion.

Christmas Cards, Writing Desks,
Strap Books, Toilet Sets,
Fine Paperettes, Golden Frames,
Work Boxes, Photograph Albums,
Autograph Albums.

elegant Gift Books in Tree Cut, Alligator and Olive Wood bindings, Hobbies, Purses, &c. A large and choice selection of

JUVENILE BOOKS,

Toy Books, &c., &c. Books for young gentlemen and ladies adapted to different ages and tastes. A fine assortment of choice and fashionable Stationery, to every trade, comprising many new styles and novelties.

U. W. HILL, FURNACE & CO.,
No. 8, January Block.

JACOB LINN,

BAKER AND CONFECTIONER.

ICE CREAM a specialty. Fresh bread and cakes. Parties and weddings furnished on short notice.

Second st., Maysville, KY.

NO POISON

IN THE PASTRY

ARE USED.

Price Baking Powder Co.,
Chicago, Ill.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder,
Chicago, Ill.

Dr. Price's Lupulin Yeast Gums,
Best Buy for Yeast.

FOR BAKING BREAD,
AND ALL OTHER PURPOSES.

THE BEST TONIC.

Physicians and Druggists recommend it.

This medicine, combining iron with pure vegetable tonic, quickly and completely cures Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Weakness, Impaired Memory, Nervousness, Headache, and all the ailments of the blood.

It is an unfailing remedy for Diseases of the Kidneys and Liver.

It is invaluable for Diseases peculiar to Women, and all the ailments of the blood.

It is a perfect blood purifier, and cures all the ailments of the blood.

It is a perfect blood purifier, and cures all the ailments of the blood.

It is a perfect blood purifier, and cures all the ailments of the blood.

It is a perfect blood purifier, and cures all the ailments of the blood.

It is a perfect blood purifier, and cures all the ailments of the blood.

It is a perfect blood purifier, and cures all the ailments of the blood.

It is a perfect blood purifier, and cures all the ailments of the blood.

It is a perfect blood purifier, and cures all the ailments of the blood.

It is a perfect blood purifier, and cures all the ailments of the blood.

It is a perfect blood purifier, and cures all the ailments of the blood.

It is a perfect blood purifier, and cures all the ailments of the blood.

It is a perfect blood purifier, and cures all the ailments of the blood.

It is a perfect blood purifier, and cures all the ailments of the blood.

It is a perfect blood purifier, and cures all the ailments of the blood.

It is a perfect blood purifier, and cures all the ailments of the blood.

It is a perfect blood purifier, and cures all the ailments of the blood.

It is a perfect blood purifier, and cures all the ailments of the blood.

It is a perfect blood purifier, and cures all the ailments of the blood.

It is a perfect blood purifier, and cures all the ailments of the blood.

It is a perfect blood purifier, and cures all the ailments of the blood.

It is a perfect blood purifier, and cures all the ailments of the blood.

It is a perfect blood purifier, and cures all the ailments of the blood.

It is a perfect blood purifier, and cures all the ailments of the blood.

THE JEFF DAVIS MATTER

Dr. Garnett, His Physician, on the Controversy in Question.

Davis a Hard Man to Approach—His Refusal to Adopt Means to Compel Kentucky to Secede—The Alexander Stephens Letter, Etc.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—The controversy in the Jeff Davis matter is beginning to attract considerable interest here. Dr. Garnett, of this city, who was the family physician of Mr. Davis during the war, has been interviewed by the Republican.

"I have followed the controversy in the papers with great interest," Dr. Garnett said. "I can give you some valuable testimony in regard to the charges General Sherman has made against Mr. Davis. I believe I know Mr. Davis as well as any man living, and I also happen to have had an opportunity, I think, no other man ever had to learn Mr. Davis's views on the question of the rights of States. General Sherman charged that Mr. Davis threatened in a letter written to a prominent Confederate General, now a Senator in Congress, to use force to compel some State to come into the Confederacy, or to yield to his wishes in some other matter. The letter General Sherman referred to is thought to have been the one to Senator Vance made public the other day, which contained nothing of the nature alleged by General Sherman.

"During the war, as you know," Dr. Garnett continued, "I was Mr. Davis's physician. In fact, I attended almost every member of the Confederate Cabinet and Government at Richmond, and was on intimate terms with him most of the members of his Cabinet and Generals of the armies. He frequently called on me for medical advice, and I was often called on to attend to the members of the Confederate and army officers, knowing of my intimate relations with Mr. Davis, he frequently requested me to take suggestions to him concerning matters which for any reason they themselves did not wish to utter. Mr. Davis was a grave, stern, somewhat unapproachable man, and this made those about him at times loath to touch on subjects that were at all doubtful.

"You remember that during the war the status of Kentucky was not well defined. There was no definite sentiment of the great mass of the people was in favor of the Confederacy, but the Legislature had failed to pass an ordinance of secession. The Yankee Government, as we called it, was preparing to send troops into the State to prevent her people from formally seceding. We were all very anxious that everything should be done to defend the Northern position.

"At this juncture, I remember, Adjutant General of our forces, came to me and pointed out the necessity of immediate action. He said that if we did not secede, we would be called in to prevent her people from formally seceding. He thought that all the forces that could be spared should be hurried into the State to drive back the Yankees, and to prevent the higher authorities from seeing what his views were on this subject. Accordingly, as soon as I conveniently could, I saw Mr. Davis, and in the conversation alluded to the condition of things in Kentucky, and suggested that something should be done to give the Governor the chance to bring the State into the Confederacy, or at least afford those of her citizens who wished it an opportunity to get over into our hands before the Yankee army was allowed to overrun the State.

"In doing anything of that sort without a formal request from the State," Mr. Davis said, "we would be violating those very principles of the rights of the States, concerning which we were now at war with the Yankee Government. It is not for me to appear as anything of the kind, even if it costs us the State of Kentucky. The States must be left perfectly free to join the Federal compact, or withdraw from it as they please.

"That ended the matter, and Kentucky was left to her fate. I remember that Mr. Davis said, 'Doctor, did you read Alexander Stephens's letter, published the other day, accusing Mr. Davis of an ambition to make himself dictator of the Republic?'

"Yes, and I can not understand his object in writing such a letter. There was certainly no truth in the charge, and he must have known it."

SANTA MARIA, Cal., Dec. 24.—Intense excitement was created here by the arrival of a wagon containing two petrified bodies, discovered in a geyser quarry near Point Sal. The bodies are those of a man and woman. They were buried side by side, with a large bundle between them. The body of the man is in a perfect state of preservation, except half the left arm. Both feet were broken off in the disinterment. The woman was apparently in the middle of life, with her hair and features in fine preservation. Her body was made by George Connor and George Holt, miners, prospecting in that neighborhood.

WICHITA, Kan., Dec. 24.—The latest phase of former Henry's rascality came to the public ear to-day when it leaked out that he had forged a note for $300 on his aged mother, now seventy years old, and the owner of but a small property. The mother will not prosecute, but she has engaged counsel to protect her interests. The directors of several national banks of the city met this morning, but are reluctant as to their action. Henry is known, however, to indicate that they will treat the subject with indifference, and pay their payment. Interesting developments, promising an entirely new phase of the affair, are looked for in the near future.

NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—The ruins of the factory and infirmary of the St. John Baptist Asylum in Brooklyn have been removed and no more bodies have been found. The children were left standing in the ruins, and the bodies were found in various private houses throughout the city or at the homes of relatives who have neglected to report the fact to the proper authorities.

EARTHQUAKE SHOCK.

Evidence of Convulsions in Long Island Sound—Vessels Damaged.

NEWHAVEN, Conn., Dec. 24.—Last night at 11 o'clock an earthquake shock was felt throughout the Seaman's Bethel, was preparing to go home, he felt a distinct jar of the earth. Looking out to sea a lamp-post shattering. The shock was more severe than that experienced here last summer, although it was comparatively unnoted, occurring as it did at a late hour. The jar was also felt at the Central Police Station. It is now believed that there was a convulsion of the earth in Long Island Sound, directly off this harbor, or near by, for at a quarter past 11 o'clock a tidal wave crowned with foam and fifty eight feet high came rolling into the bay from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done. Mr. Davis viewed the shock from the South, traversing the entire length of the harbor, which is four miles long. It had a speed of about twelve miles an hour, and moved with an ominous rushing sound like the hiss of a hurricane, carrying destruction in its path. It was dark and cold and rainy at the time, and a light fog, which was growing denser, overcame the view. It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done.

Disregarding Her Ancient Pedigree
And the Wishes of Her Relatives—
Ex-Congressman Lynch's Marriage Crantes a Hubbub.

Prisoner Tortured to Death.
OJO CALIENTE, Mex., Dec. 24.—The political chief of this place is charged with imprisoning Estelán Sánchez, a man suspected of complicity with a band of robbers, for fifteen days without food and frequently tortured him during that time to make him reveal his supposed association. As he knew nothing, of course he could reveal nothing, and was at last released, so weak that he died the next day after release. The citizens are very indignant toward the chief and serious trouble is anticipated.

J. J. McCARTHEY, Licensed auctioneer for Mason and adjoining counties. Orders left at the BULLETIN office will receive prompt attention. R. F. address Mt. Carmel.

will be in first-class working order, greatly enlarged, and I am determined to use my best efforts to insure good pictures. Thanking you for your kind favors in the past, I remain yours truly,

J. T. KACKLEY.